In late 2011, Art & Culture Magazine summed up how most viewers perceived Deborah Colton Gallery, with the title of a feature story they did on the Gallery, "An Artful Life - Deborah Colton & Her Texas Home for International Contemporary Art." Certainly, the international programming that Colton created has always been a focus, starting with the first exhibitions in 2000 through the first decade of the millennium, as was featured in "20 in 2020 – Part 1." This focus has been the unique trademark of Deborah Colton Gallery in Texas and with their artists, clients and supporters world-wide.

"20 in 2020 - Part 2" starts in 2011, when Deborah Colton Gallery featured a powerful solo exhibition of Rania Daniel's Urban Illusion where her paintings and photography reflected the changes taking place in Beirut at the time. Rania Daniel's thought-provoking art has been shown in several solo and group exhibitions since then, as have many other exhibitions relating to the Middle East – Arab World throughout Deborah Colton Gallery's history.

"20 in 2020 - Part 2" continues to celebrate Colton's 20th anniversary for exhibitions in Houston and focuses on the internationally and humanitarian-conscious programming that Deborah Colton Gallery has always been known for, featuring the years 2011 to 2020. All works are available for acquisition and can be viewed on their website and Viewing Room after the exhibition opens.

The exhibition will remain on display through January 9.
