Houston Fine Art Fair

The 3rd Annual Houston Fine Art Fair took place from the 19th to the 22nd of September at Houston's George R. Brown Convention Center. Opening night Thursday saw a record 3,300 visitors and sales of work by numerous artists including Eric Forstmann, Robert Rauschenberg, Frank Stella, and Korean artist Kim Yong Joong. By closing Sunday, more than 13,500 Houstonians had viewed over 3,000 artworks on view with hundreds of transactions featuring work by artists such as Fernando Botero, Wilfredo Lam, Joan Miro, Rufino Tamayo, and Andy Warhol. The Mayor of Houston Annise Parker kicked off the fair's public opening, Friday September 20th with a salute to the Business Volunteers for the Arts (BVA), one of the Houston Art Alliance's premier programs. In addition to the strong Korean gallery presence, HFAF again played host to a major Latin American contingent with art galleries from Argentina, Chile, Columbia, Cuba, Ecuador, Mexico, and Venezuela alongside galleries from England, France, Italy, Spain, and Switzerland.
