EVENT ARTHOUSTON 2012
WHY ARTHOUSTON
WHERE DEBORAH COLTON GALLERY
WHEN JULY 13

The city's art scene tends to wind down in the summer, with the exception of one notable event, ArtHouston 2012. Deborah Colton, together with 002 houston magazine, hosted a crowd of more than 250 art enthusiasts, collectors, artists and friends. Hundreds strolled through the maze-like white corridors admiring one-of-a-kind masterpieces, sipping IKAL wines, Stella Artois beer and noshing on delicious bites by Philippe Restaurant + Lounge. The exhibit featured art by contemporary Latin American artists Alfredo Scaroina, Roberto del Rio, Tania Marmolejo, Becky Soria, Marjon F. Aucoin and Michael Macedo-Meazell.

Hosts Lester & Penelope Marks

SETH VAUGHAN

Our town's Medicis, top collectors Penelope and Lester Marks, hosted a post-ArtHouston bash honoring featured talent Alfredo Scaroina, whose latest neo-expressionist, text-filled canvases were headlined at Deborah Colton Gallery earlier that evening. Among the celebrants: Tatiana and Craig Massey, dance man Dominic Walsh, Brian James, painters Becky Soria and Michael Macedo Mezell (also showcased during the opening at DCG), City ArtWorks' Keelan Wackman, Christy Karll McWhorter, and scientist-artist Rahul Mitra. An impromptu tour of the Marks' trove of Cornells, including those mysterious boxes and a rare sand tray, added another element of delight to the night.
