

The Fun Develops Instantly

The influential '80s artist/fashion designer/filmmaker Maripol is known for her candid Polaroid snaps of New York's underground art scene. She photographed Deborah Harry, Grace Jones, Andy Warhol, Jean-Michel Basquiat, Patti Astor and Madonna. The exhibit "Maripolarama: Perverse City" features some of these photos — blown up to larger sizes — which reveal the party lifestyle of the era's artistic set.

Also featured in the show are a handful of Maripol's larger, black-and-white Polaroids from her Address Book series. The photos feature recent, lesser-known faces from today's world of entertainment. These are less party shots than straight-up portraits: Each person is posed simply, alone or next to a loved one. 10:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Tuesdays through Saturdays. Through July 4. Deborah Colton Gallery, 2500 Summer. For information, call 713-869-5151 or visit www.deborahcoltongallery.com. Free.

— DUSTI RHODES