

THIS MONTH'S MUST-SEE EXHIBITS.

1. Russian artist Olga Tobreluts' solo exhibit at DEBORAH COLTON GALLERY explores evolution in human visual perception in the 21st century. The multimedia exhibit, New Abilities, offers new forms of visual expression that discuss the simulation of reality and "realness" in our advanced technological age. On view through April 18. | www.deborahcoltongallery.com

2. In collaboration with Assistant Professor Jesús Vassallo and students of the Rice School of Architecture course "Learning from Houston," Atelier Bow Wow | Shotgun sits on a house-like structure at the center of RICE GALLERY. On view through March 15. | www.ricegallery.org

3. OFF THE WALL GALLERY presents The Art of John Lennon, showcasing artworks created by the legendary musician and artist himself. John Lennon's artwork celebrates human love and communication – two themes at the heart of his contribution to the art of the 20th century. His iconic "Self-Portrait" image has become the cornerstone of the collection. All artwork is on exhibition and available for acquisition March 26 through March 29. | www.offthewallgallery.com

4. Cover Your Nut features new work never exhibited before by Helen Altman including found-object sculptures created from hand puppets and stuffed animals. Also on view is a six-foot grid of 42 life-size skulls, made from flowers, grasses, seeds, herbs and spices on view through March 21 at MOODY GALLERY.
